LEAVING TOWN, READING TERMINAL STATION, PHILADELPHIA

Pleasant Places— 1901

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway traverses the Land of Plenty, and its "Pleasant Places" are found everywhere within the regions it reaches. All of these are accessible at a small cost, and a large proportion of them are available for the families of busy men who must be in town every day. An effort is made in the following pages to mention, however briefly, all of the desirable summering points along the main line and branches of this company. Correspondence with any of the parties named herein, with a preliminary visit, if possible, will undoubtedly lead to a pleasant refuge during the heated months. Facilities for the varied pleasures of country life, including driving over the usually fine roads of Eastern Pennsylvania, are generally ample. Special mention is made this season of cycling excursions, which may be made from all of the places in the following list.

READING TERMINAL BUILDING, PHILADELPHIA

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES.

In the selection of one's Summer Home a highly essential consideration is the means available for getting to and from it. As regards local passenger transportation, the Philadelphia & Reading Railway is unsurpassed in the extent and character of the service furnished. Its trains are fast, frequent and reliable. The engines are fed exclusively on hard anthracite coal, thus insuring immunity from soot, cinders and sulphur so obtrusively in evidence on some other lines of travel. The equipment of the suburban trains is kept upon a high plane of perfection and a remarkable rate of speed is attained between stations. This fast running is safeguarded by the "Hall" system of automatic block signals, which has been placed in operation on the lines of this company. This excellent equipment, together with the celebrated level roadbed of hard slag stone, has brought the physical condition of the Reading to such a degree of eminence that it has merited the title of the "Royal Route." In the arrangement of its suburban and seashore time-tables special deference is accorded the requirements of those whose vocations necessitate a daily trip between the summer house and the city.

The capacious Reading Terminal, at Market and Twelfth Streets, Philadelphia, in the very heart and centre of the city's activities, furnishes a terminus especially advantageous to business men who desire a residence out of town for the summer months, or a longer period. It is equally convenient, in the matter of location, for those members of the family who make occasional visits to the city for shopping, social calls or amusements, and for the younger people attending city schools. For each of these classes, ample and careful provision is made in the adjustment of train service.

RATES OF FARE.

Among the many potent factors entering into the selection of a Summer Home is the expense of traveling. With its constant liberal attitude toward its patrons, the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company inaugurated and has now in operation a system of commutation tickets, which reduces the cost of daily riding to a surprisingly low figure, and in many instances not exceeding city street car fare.

The 60-trip tickets are valid only during the month for which they are sold. The 180-trip tickets must be used up within three consecutive calendar months. In addition to these there are monthly school tickets issued at about two-thirds the price of 60-trip tickets. All above good for passage of person named thereon only. There are also, between certain points, 26-trip and 50-trip tickets sold at a reduction from the regular fare, and 1000-mile tickets, at the rate of two cents per mile. Unless otherwise noted, excursion tickets are good two days, including the day of issue, excepting that when sold on Saturday they are good until midnight of the succeeding Monday. The package tickets and 50-trip tickets are accepted for the passage of the person presenting them.

SPECIAL NOTE.—All distances given are from Philadelphia, and all rates of board named are per the week. The post-office of all proprietors is the same as station unless otherwise noted.

Through the Valley of the Schuylkill.

NORRISTOWN BRANCH AND MAIN LINE.

Aside from the attractions which it presents to summer sojourners, this region furnishes opportunities for single-day outings that are not equaled anywhere within a corresponding distance of the city. All along the valleys are to be found attractive points for short excursions, rich in scenic beauty and historic interest.

The railroad follows the windings of the Schuylkill from Philadelphia clear up to its source in the mountains. It is need'less to say that the facilities for boating and fishing are unsurpassed, while the hills that rise almost from the river's brink furnish scope for rides and rambles, gunning, and all forms of out-door pleasures.

CONSHOHOCKEN, PA.

Thirteen and a half miles. Fare, 31 cents; Excursion, 50 cents. Package Tickets, 10 for $2.25; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $5.90; 100-trip Commutation Ticket, $13.50; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $6.75; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $18.25. Thirty trains each way on weekdays. Sixteen trains each way on Sundays.

Upon the surrounding hills many delightful residences and outlooks may be found. Hallowell Mansion, Mrs. Hallowell, and The Maples, Mrs. E. E. Hewitt, both near station, each can take 10 or 15 boarders, $8.00. Mrs. Matlock can accommodate 15 boarders, same rate. Kline Cottage, Mrs. H. Kline, takes 15 guests at $7.00. Mrs. Caleb Ruth has room for 10 persons, rate of $6.00.

CYCLING.—Plymouth Pike to Broad Axe and Ambler. West Side River Road to Norristown. Township Line Road to Radnor. Via Barren Hill to Wissahickon Drive.

NORRISTOWN, PA.

Seventeen miles. Fare, 45 cents; Excursion, 65 cents. Twenty-nine trains each way on weekdays. Nineteen trains each way on Sundays.

The hotels in the town proper are all on Main or DeKalb Streets, and the farthest is but a square and a half from Main Street Station. They all have extensive stables attached. The Hotel Montgomery, Peter V. Hoy, proprietor, has room for one hundred boarders, $10.00 to $12.00. The Hotel Windsor, S. H. Mensch, capacity of eighty-five guests, charges $5.00 and $7.00. The Varonda House, John L. Burkett, can take fifty boarders, rate $5.00. The Hartranft House, E. H. Brendlinger, is desirably located, and entertains a large number of city people each summer. Eighty guests can be accommodated, rates $4.50 and $6.00. The Rambo House, P. K. Gable, has room for seventy-five boarders, $5.00 and $7.00. Mrs. J. Schultz conducts the Market House Hotel. Sixty persons can be accommodated here, $5.00. The Farmers' Hotel, J. F. Keyser, has room for seventy-five guests, rate $4.50. The West End Hotel, Leyshore Thomas, Jr., has room for fifty guests at $7.00 to $10.00.

CYCLING.—Ridge Pike for Barren Hill or Pottstown. Cross river to take road for Conshohocken. Hilly roads to Valley Forge and Bryn Mawr.

BRIDGEPORT, PA.

Seventeen miles. Fare, 45 cents; Excursion, 65 cents. Package Tickets, 10 for $2.95; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $7.80; 100-trip Commutation Ticket, $15.90; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $7.95; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $21.45. Twelve trains each way on weekdays. Six trains each way on Sundays.

This is a pleasant little town located opposite the city of Norristown. The surrounding country is hilly and picturesque. Fine boating and elegant bass fishing.

The St. Elmo Hotel, at the station, John J. McKernan, will take thirty guests. The Bridgeport Hotel, Jesse J. Eastburn, has accommodations for forty boarders. Friendship Hotel, J. J. Murphy, has room for ten, all at the uniform rate of $1.50 per day.

ABRAMS, PA.

Seven trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

Forever memorable as the scene of the encampment of Washington's patriot army during the dark winter of 1777-78, Valley Forge is also rich in natural beauty and picturesque surroundings. The stone house occupied by General Washington as his headquarters still stands as it stood in Revolutionary days, and the line of intrenchments thrown up by the "Ragged Continentals" may still be seen, as well as the ruins of the ancient forge, from which the place derives its name.

WASHINGTON'S HEADQUARTERS, VALLEY FORGE.

The Washington Inn, with its "Annex," jointly conducted by J. A. Shaw, accommodates sixteen guests, rates $6.00 to $10.00. It is near the station, the river and Washington's headquarters. Livery stable and boats.

The Mansion House, John L. Hay, has accommodations for twenty-five persons, rates $6.00 to $10.00. Splendid fishing and boating.

Seven trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

Few localities offer a greater diversity of attractions. The Schuylkill affords boating, bathing and fishing; the woodlands round about excellent hunting; and pleasant drives and rustic walks lead away in all directions. A few hundred yards from the station is Sanatoga Park, containing a lake abounding in fish, two spacious pavilions and a fine caroussel. Steam launches and row boats are found on the lake.

The Sanatoga Inn, a mile from the station, is presided over by Thomas R. Mahoney. Excellent accommodations for twelve boarders at $5.00. Pleasant View Hotel, a mile from the station, can take ten at $5.00. G. B. Yerger, proprietor. These two houses are situated on the Reading turnpike, directly on the line of an electric railway connecting Pottstown and Sanatoga Park.

BIRDSBORO, PA.

Forty-nine and a half miles. Fare, $1.35; Excursion, $1.96. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $17.40; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $23.40. Seven trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

The town is situated across the river from the station, communication being had by a bridge. There are many picturesque views of mountain, valley and river, and the facilities for boating and fishing are good. At the Mansion House, Samuel G. Spotts, ten boarders can be accommodated at $5.00. The Washington, L. R. Henry, can take twenty, and the St. Elmo, William Dengler, has accommodations for sixteen persons at same rate. Stabling at all three hotels.

CYCLING.—Same as Monocacy.

READING, PA.

Fifty-eight miles. Fare, $1.75; Excursion, $2.34. 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $30.34; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $20.10. Twelve trains each way on weekdays. Five trains each way Sundays.

Under the shadows of Mount Penn, Mount Washington and Neversink Mountain, is the beautiful city of Reading.

This is one of the oldest settlements in Pennsylvania, having been laid out in 1748 by William and Richard Penn, proprietaries of the province, named after the English cathedral town of Reading.

For a one-day outing no more attractive destination could be chosen. The train service enables one to make the trip from Philadelphia, or even from more distant points, reaching Reading in the mid-morning and returning in the late afternoon or evening, after riding over the two famous mountains by electric and "switchback" railways, and partaking of the good cheer for which the various mountain hostelries are celebrated.

A leading attraction is the Neversink Mountain Railroad. Starting from Ninth and Penn Streets, in the heart of the city, and only a few minutes' walk from Franklin Street Station, Philadelphia & Reading Railway, the road winds round and round the wooded slopes of the mountain, affording, as it rises, dazzling and kaleidoscopic views of immense extent and beauty beyond words. A ride of four miles accomplished in twenty minutes, and the traveler alights at the great Neversink Mountain Hotel. Reared upon the eastern crest of the mountain's loftiest height, this edifice occupies a situation of striking and commanding advantage. Viewed from its broad piazzas the landscape stretches for miles in every direction like a vast and varied picture. The hotel itself is an imposing structure, 365 feet in length and five stories in height, with 192 large airy bed-rooms, in addition to spacious parlors, reception, reading, assembly and dining rooms. The building is complete in every respect, having express office, telegraph and long distance telephone, electric lights and bells, elevator, steam heat, open fireplaces, hot and cold baths; and every floor is supplied with soft water from the famous Klapperthal Spring. The furniture throughout is elegant, and the cuisine is unexceptionable, the table being generously supplied from the rich agricultural country in the immediate vicinity. A 14-foot-wide piazza surrounds the entire building, affording a continuous promenade of nearly 900 feet. An orchestra is maintained throughout the season. The season extends from June 15th until October 1st. The rate for transient guests is $3.50 to $5.00 per day; by the week, $14.00 to $18.00 for single rooms, $26.00 and upwards for double rooms. Special terms can be secured for June and September, and also for families making an extended stay.

THE SCHUYKILL VALLEY FROM NEVERSINK MOUNTAIN RAILROAD

Another resort of great beauty and attractiveness is Mount Penn, reached by an eight-mile "switchback" or gravity railroad, starting from and terminating at Mineral Springs Park, Reading's public pleasure ground. The ride up the mountain is a novel sensation, and the view from the summit of Mount Penn is one of superb beauty and grandeur. Here, 1,140 feet above sea level, is situated the Summit Hotel, a new and elegantly appointed stone house with electric lighting and all accommodations for sixty guests. It is managed by H. B. Schwartz, and the rate is $10.00 and upwards, according to location of room, or $2.50 per day. Open June 15th to September 15th.

Woodvale Inn, Charles Keffer, proprietor, P. O. address, Dengler's, at the base of the Neversink Mountain, two miles from Reading, is reached by the electric railway, starting from Ninth and Penn Streets. It accommodates one hundred guests, rates $7.00 to $12.00. The romantically picturesque surroundings and famously excellent cuisine of this house render it a desirable rendezvous for short excursions, as well as for a vacation stay. It is open June 1st to October 1st.

The Highland House, Miss A. S. Ganser, is situated on Neversink Mountain, one mile from Reading, and is reached by an inclined plane or Neversink Mountain Road. Its elevation is 927 feet above tidewater. The house accommodates two hundred guests, and the rates are $8.00 to $12.00. Open June 1st to October 1st.

The Black Bear Inn, Charles S. Grant, is on a fine lawn amidst beautiful shade trees, at the base of the Neversink Mountain, three miles east of Reading, at the terminus of an electric railway, which runs cars between the city and the inn every fifteen minutes. The house, which is of the Queen Anne style of architecture, is entirely surrounded by spacious porches, and supplied with every comfort and convenience. It accommodates one hundred boarders, rates $6.00 to $7.00. Open June 1st to October 1st.

Centennial Springs Hotel, Moses K. Graeff, is on the mountain side, three miles from Reading by electric road. It accommodates fifty boarders, $6.00 to $7.00. Open June 1st to October 1st.

CYCLING.—Numerous fine roads radiating. North on Ninth street for Allentown. North on Fifth street and Centre avenue for Pottsville. West on Penn street for Lebanon and Harrisburg. Via Goulersville for Lancaster. East on Penn street and Perkiomen avenue for Pottstown.

Pickering and French Creek Valleys.

PICKERING VALLEY BRANCH.

Diverging from Phoenixville, this branch road penetrates the valleys of the Pickering and French Creeks. It is a region of farms, a famous dairy country, and abounds in picturesque views. Trains to and from the Reading Terminal.

KIMBERTON, PA.

Thirty-two miles. Fare, 81 cents; Excursion, $1.23. 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $14.04; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $12.15; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $32.80; Three trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

The country in the vicinity is hilly, with much beautiful scenery. There are several streams in the neighborhood stocked with trout, bass and other fish, and two large mill ponds afford fine boating. An abundance of small game is an attraction for sportsmen. Good roads for driving and cycling.

'Twxix South Mountain and the Blue Ridge.

LEBANON VALLEY BRANCH.

This branch of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway, extending from Reading to Harrisburg, runs through the picturesque Lebanon Valley, lying between two lofty ridges which form a part of the great Appalachian range of mountains. The scenery of this region is rugged, grand and impressive. In every direction are views of wide extent, great diversity and unparalleled beauty. The climate is renowned for its salubrity. It is declared to be fully equal to that of Colorado. The air is unusually dry, dew being absolutely unknown upon the lofty elevations which overlook the valley. Asthma, hay fever, malaria, and kindred disorders readily succumb to the healing effects of the pure and invigorating atmosphere. The buzz of the mosquito is never heard. Gushing springs supply cool, sweet and limpid water, while the famous valley farms provide the freshest and most delicious edibles. While a sojourn among these mountains is especially beneficial to invalids, and to those in need of recuperative influences and treatment, it is a good place for healthy people also. Gunning, fishing and all varieties of sport and amusement abound.

CYCLING.—A beautiful Road to Lebanon and Harrisburg. At Wernersville a detour may be made through the beautiful parks of the health resorts upon the mountains, and at Lebanon to the Cornwall Iron Mountains.

For a full half century has Wernersville been a health resort, and its reputation as such is familiar to medical men throughout the country. Its geographical, climatic and social advantages combine to make it an ideal mountain retreat. Frequent fast trains connect it with New York, Philadelphia and other important centres, while the mail, telegraph and telephone facilities compare most favorably with those available at other high-class mountain resorts. The hotels are generally progressive and up-to-date in their appointments and administration. With a single exception, noted below, these houses are open for guests all the year round.

The Walter Sanitarium is located high up on the mountain side, one thousand feet above tidewater, and two miles from Wernersville station. The Sanitarium contains one hundred and twenty-five rooms, and will accommodate two hundred persons. The terms per week range from $12.00 to $30.00. Medical treatment may be had if desired. There is a gymnasium, bowling alley, and hygienic baths of various kinds. An extensive livery is attached, and the buildings and grounds are lighted by electricity. Dr. Robert Walter is proprietor, and the address is Walter's Park, near Reading, Pa. Stabling ample.

The Grand View Sanatorium, on a slope of the South Mountain, one and a half miles from station, is conducted by Dr. R. D. Wenrich. P. O., Wernersville, Pa. The Grand View accommodates one hundred and twenty-five persons comfortably, at from $12 to $30.00.

The Mountain Sunset House, one and one-half miles from Wernersville station, is situated far up on South Mountain. Its location is notably healthful. One hundred and fifty guests can be accommodated, and the terms are from $10.00 to $20.00. The proprietor is Dr. J. D. Moyer, P. O., Mountain Sunset, Berks County, Pa.

Preston's Sunnyside, perched on a terrace of great South Mountain, at an altitude of one thousand feet, is a favorite resort. One hundred persons can secure quarters here at from $12.00 to $21.00. The Sunnyside is under the management of J. H. Preston. P. O., Wernersville, Pa. Carriages meet any train when desired. This house is open from April 1st to November 1st.

Historic Vale of Cumberland.

GETTYSBURG AND SHIPPENSBURG LINES.

CYCLING — Roads much used by wheelmen radiate in six directions from Gettysburg, respectively to Dillsburg, York, Hanover, Baltimore, Waynesboro and Chambersburg. The many miles of drives upon the battlefield are fine. A pleasant short run exists from Carlisle to Mt. Holly.

These lines, extending southward from Harrisburg, traverse a region of romantic beauty and great historic interest. They form the most direct and most desirable means of communication between the great cities of the East, West and North, and that Mecca of American patriotism, the Battlefield of Gettysburg, besides rendering accessible one of the most picturesque and fruitful sections of the Keystone State.

The train service is maintained at the high standard characteristic of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway. Through tickets and baggage checks by this most attractive route are obtainable at every station and ticket office of consequence throughout the country.

This handsome town of 10,000 inhabitants is one of the oldest settlements in Southern Pennsylvania. It is situated in the far-famed Cumberland Valley, in one of the most beautiful spots between the North and the South Mountains. The United States Indian School occupies the old Government barracks, erected here by the Hessian soldiers captured by Washington at the battle of Trenton in 1777. Dickinson College, founded 1793, is located here; also Metzgar College for young women. The highways are broad and well paved; an excellent water supply, gas, electric lights, and electric railways to nearby pleasure resorts, are up-to-date features. Contiguous to the town are many fine drives, picturesque views and numerous trout streams.

At the Hotel Wellington, G. B. Brandon, sixty persons can be comfortably entertained at $7.00 to $10.00. An equal number can find accommodations at the Mansion House, Harry Miller, at same rates. The Thudium House, M. K. Brubaker, proprietor, has a capacity of thirty guests. The rate is $4.00.

GETTYSBURG, PA.

One hundred and sixty miles. Fare, $4.00 (good for two days); Excursion (good for six months), $6.00.

Unique among the great battlefields of history, Gettysburg, by reason of the vast forces engaged and the magnitude of the issues determined by its results, will ever be regarded as the most impressive tragedy the world has seen enacted in the theatre of war. Year after year, a constantly increasing throng of visitors pours into the little town of Gettysburg and scatters across its environing fields and slopes to look upon the various spots made ineffaceably historic by the events of those July days in 1863. The hundreds of monuments and memorial tablets which dot the field serve to make plain the story of the battle.

The highways around the town, and leading away in all directions, are much used by that enterprising element of our touring population, the wheelmen, who come here in large numbers by train, and make this the centre of a variety of pleasing excursions. The amateur photographer, too, finds along the winding streams of the valley a wealth of subjects, picturesque and historical, for his plates.

The Eagle Hotel, one square from the station, has accommodations for three hundred guests at $8.00 to $12.00; proprietor, Frank Eberhart. The City Hotel, J. E. Hughes, has a capacity of two hundred at $7.00 to $10.00. The Globe Hotel, conducted by Lewis Ramer, and Central Hotel, Elias Fessnell, can each accommodate one hundred at same rates. The Hotel Gettysburg, with room for two hundred and fifty, is presided over by M. E. Zinn, and the terms are $10.00 to $12.00.

A square from the depot is Peter Brunner's Washington House, with accommodations for an even hundred people, at $7.00 to $10.00. The Pitzer House, a square and a half from depot, is conducted by J. E. Pitzer, with room for fifty boarders at $5.00 to $10.00. Mrs. Breunreuter, at the Battlefield House, can take one hundred and fifty boarders at $8.00 to $12.00.

The houses above named are from one to four squares from the station. During the annual G. A. R. encampment, and on other extraordinary occasions, the people generally open their homes to visitors. About five thousand can be entertained in this manner, at an average price of $1.50. per day.

EAGLE'S MERE.

One of the finest mountain resorts within near reach of Philadelphia is Eagle's Mere—in plain Anglo-Saxon, "The Lake of the Eagles"—situated on the very summit of the Alleghenies, over two thousand feet above the level of the sea.

Eagle's Mere is in Sullivan County, Pa., far from the busy hum of the large cities, and is surrounded by virgin forests of hemlock, stretching for miles in every direction, imparting a balmy, invigorating tone to the rarefied mountain air, making it an especially grateful relief to invalids suffering from hay fever, asthma and kindred diseases, while the restful influences of the surroundings have been found very beneficial in cases of insomnia and nervous prostration. It is emphatically a region of rest, yet the opportunities for healthful activity are practically unlimited, there being, besides good gunning and fishing in the vicinity, excellent driving, romantic walks, and good facilities for boating, bathing, golf, lawn tennis, etc.

What is somewhat unique for a mountain resort is that Eagle's Mere presents opportunities for bathing that cannot be excelled. The Lake being partially fed by hot springs, its water, while bright and crystal clear, has not that cold chilliness generally found in spring water, and is warm, buoyant and noticeably soft, the latter peculiarity being due to its containing a solution of borax, making it an especially valuable emollient and skin improver.

While completely surrounded by nature's wildest scenery, and affording mountain views not exceeded even by the far-famed Adirondacks, Eagle's Mere itself is not a rough, rugged settlement, but is instead a picturesque village of magnificent summer cottages, hotels and boarding houses built on the shores of the beautiful lake of crystal spring water, christened by some poetical writer as "The Pearl of the Alleghenies," and replete with all the conveniences of modern civilization, including long distance telephone and telegraph, express and mail service.

To reach Eagle's Mere it is not necessary to—as is frequently the case with mountain resorts—take a long, tiresome stage ride over rough, stony roads, but direct rail communications are made with all the principal cities of the Middle States.

Finely equipped Philadelphia & Reading express trains, with Pullman Parlor Cars attached, leave the Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, at convenient hours, and, making a quick run through the fertile farming lands and the coal and lumber regions of Pennsylvania, have close connections at Halls with trains via the Williamsport and North Branch Railroad to Sonestown, where passengers take the Eagle's Mere Railroad, claimed, and with reason, to present more and finer picturesque views than any road anywhere near its length in the country.

The Eagle's Mere Chatauqua, annually increasing in membership and attractions, is held July 25th, to August 22d, and offers special inducements to those appreciating lectures, music and other attractions of that character. The Chatauqua Inn, E. R. Kriess, Manager, situated in the Chatauqua grounds, has accommodations for four hundred guests. Numerous fine cottages are situated in the Park, whose tenants can arrange for meals at the Inn.

From among the numerous hotels and boarding houses we will name a few, with name of proprietor: Crestmont Inn, Wm. Y. Warner; The Lakeside, J. S. Kirk & Co.; The Raymond, W. S. Laird; Hotel Eagle's Mere, E. V. Ingham; the Allegheny, W. H. Van Buskirk; Hotel Lewis, A. C. Little. Any of the above proprietors will be pleased to mail particulars, rates, etc., on application.

ESSICK HEIGHTS AND HIGHLAND LAKE.

Essick Heights is another pleasant resort, situated in Lycoming County on a spur of the Alleghenies, surrounded by a wide stretch of wooded slopes and green valleys, and is reached via the Philadelphia & Reading Railway to Halls, and thence over the Williamsport and North Branch R. R. to Chamonni, here easy and comfortable carriages are taken for a speedy drive of four and a half miles up a wildly beautiful mountain road.

feet above the sea, in a rarefied, dry and invigorating atmosphere, fanned by balmy mountain breezes purified and improved by passing over miles of dense forests, is an attractive, comfortable and homelike hotel with large airy rooms, wide piazzas and all modern appointments, including two daily mails, telegraph and long distance telephone. New and complete bath house arranged for hot, cold, steam, vapor, Turkish and electric baths. H. M. Essick, M. D., is the proprietor. P. O., Essick Heights, Pa.

Highland Lake is about one mile from Essick Heights, on the same mountain spur. The hotel here is The Highland House, S. H. Burrows, of Picture Rocks, Pa., proprietor.

Amid Colonial Scenes. German-town and Chestnut Hill Branch.

CHESTNUT HILL, PA.

Ten and three-quarters miles. Fare, 12 cents; Excursion, 20 cents. Package Tickets, 10 for $1.00; 50-trip Commutation Ticket, $4 50. Twenty-nine trains each way on weekdays. Twenty-seven trains each way on Sundays.

Chestnut Hill, five hundred feet above the level of the Delaware, is one of a series of elevations which constitute the terminus of a spur of the Blue Ridge. Here are located some of the most costly and magnificent residences in the country. The natural beauty of the place is too well-known to require description. All about it are miles of superb driving and cycling roads, and the Wissahickon creek, with all its picturesque, primeval charm, winds around the base of the hill.

The Eldon, a strictly first-class summer and winter home, is located on a bold eminence, two squares from station, overlooking the beautiful and historic Whitemarsh Valley. George Simpson is its proprietor, and his facilities are ample for the entertainment of one hundred and fifty guests, at $12.00 to $20.00. A large livery stable is connected with the house. "Maple Lawn," Mrs. S. Suively, is situated at the junction of the Reading and Bethlehem Turnpikes, on the highest street grade in Philadelphia County. Fifty persons can be accommodated, at from $8.00 to $15.00. At John Landis' Hotel, four squares from station, fifty can be accommodated; rates, $6.00 to $8.00.

Pennsylvania's Garden Lands.

BETHLEHEM BRANCH.

The Bethlehem Branch extends from Philadelphia to Bethlehem, fifty-six miles, through a famously rich agricultural district.

It is noted for its salubrity at all seasons, and for the agreeable absence of great heat in the summer. Malaria is unknown, and it is never invaded by the pestiferous mosquito. It offers, probably, a greater number and variety of summer refuges for city folk than any other region accessible from Philadelphia. The train service is very conveniently arranged, and it is considerably increased during the summer months. The city stations are located at the Reading Terminal and Third and Berks Streets.

CYCLING.—This is one of the most famous wheeling regions in America; the points upon this branch within the suburban limits and those for many miles to the northward are surrounded by an intricate network of splendid roads and turnpikes, too numerous to detail. The fine Bethlehem pike parallels the railroad, and at nearly every station good roads extend right and left across country. From Centre Valley roads fork to Bethlehem and Allentown.

JENKINTOWN, PA.

Ten and three-quarters miles. Fare, 15 cents; Excursion, 25 cents. Package Tickets, 8 for $1.00; 50-trip Commutation Ticket, $5.00. Fifty-nine trains each way on weekdays. Thirty-two trains each way on Sundays.

One of the oldest, as well as one of the most delightful suburbs of Philadelphia. The houses here are nearly all supplied with the usual conveniences and accessories found in modern city homes. There is a regular letter carrier service, as well as a free express delivery and cheap cab system. The macadamized streets are lighted by electricity.

The Beechwood Inn rears its broad front on the brow of a hill overlooking the station, its gates opening directly from the railroad platform. It is surrounded by a grove of fine old trees, through which beautiful vistas open out in every direction. It contains two hundred rooms, accommodating about three hundred people. S. B. Hillman is the manager, and the rates are from $15.00 upwards.

Griscom Cottage, Mrs. J. W. Griscom, is an exceedingly comfortable place, accommodating fifteen boarders at from $7.00 up. It is located a half mile from station. The cottage of Mrs. Emma Briggs, in Jenkintown proper, can accommodate fourteen boarders at $5.00.

GLENSIDE, PA.

Eleven and three-quarters miles. Fare, 15 cents; Excursion, 25 cents. Package Tickets, 8 for $1.00; 50-trip Commutation Ticket, $5.00. Thirty-five trains each way on weekdays. Nineteen trains each way on Sundays.

Situated at the junction of the Bethlehem and Northeast Pennsylvania branches, Glenside offers special train accommodations to summer boarders or residents. Glenside Farms, the new tract just opened to building, extending from Jenkintown, with macadamized avenues, electric lights, and pure water, and magnificent walks, adds greatly to the pleasure and comfort of the summer sojourner or permanent resident.

The Glenside House, S. D. Kille, receives sixty guests from May 15th to September 15th, at $6.00 to $10.00.

The farm house of Mr. E. L. Roberts has accommodations for eight persons at from $6.00 to $10.00. P. O. address is Weldon, Pa.

Miss A. E. Jordan, "Waverly," and Mrs. C. K. Aiman, can accommodate from ten to twenty boarders at $6.00 to $10.00. At Shady Nook Dairy Farm, W. W. Wolf, can take care of twenty-five persons at $6.00 to $12.00.

At "The Brookside," three minutes walk from station, Mrs. E. N. Greger can take ten boarders at $5.00 to $7.00.

FORT WASHINGTON, PA.

Sixteen miles. Fare, 35 cents; Excursion, 49 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1.25; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $7.50; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $20.25; 20 trip Commutation Ticket, $4.68. Nineteen trains each way on weekdays. Twelve trains each way on Sundays.

Fort Washington derives its name from the fact that the Father of His Country here erected a fort, the remains of which are still to be seen. The village occupies very high ground, commanding magnificent views of Whitemarsh Valley. The neighborhood is remarkably healthful, the air dry and pure, with an abundant supply of good spring water. Excellent driving and cycling roads extend through a beautiful region in every direction. Nearly all of the parties named herein have carriages which convey boarders to and from the station without charge. As a rule, they will all take children at one-half the price named for adults.

Fort Side Inn is upon the Bethlehem Pike, one mile from Fort Washington. It has accommodations for fifty boarders. The proprietor, D. Campbell, may be addressed at Whitemarsh, Pa. The rates are $7.00 to $10.00. Coach will meet trains by arrangement.

The Clifton House, Geo. Herman, occupies a fine situation, and in addition to other advantages, has a large hall for entertainments and dancing. Accommodations are provided for eighty boarders at from $6.00 to $12.00. Stabling.

The names which follow are those of persons having farm houses in the vicinity, the local or post office name being given, with the distance from Fort Washington station: Mrs. Thomas Shoemaker, Jarrettsville, Pa., two and a half miles, can accommodate twenty at $7.00 to $10.00; conveyance to and from station free of charge. Albert Atkinson, at the village of Three Tuns, Pa., two miles east of Fort Washington, has accommodations for ten at $6.00 to $8.00. The Donata, B. F. Levy, Fort Washington, can, after May 1st, provide for twenty-five persons at from $6.00 to $8.00. Mrs. Isaac Conard, Mrs. W. Shaffer, Jos. Huckle and W. H. Warner, all within a radius of one mile, can accommodate twelve persons each.

AMBLER, PA.

Seventeen and a Quarter miles. Fare, 41 cents; Excursion, 59 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1.50; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $7.95; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $21.45; 20 trip Commutation Ticket, $5.55. Twenty trains each way on weekdays. Thirteen trains each way on Sundays.

A pretty village, favorably situated at a considerable elevation. The atmosphere is dry and cool, and the country roundabout affords fine views, walks and drives. Electric lights, baths and other modern conveniences are found in the houses mentioned here.

The Hotel Ambler, fifty yards from station, J. H. Blackburn, can entertain thirty guests at $7.00 to $12.00.

At the Wyndham Hotel, J. D. Cooper, sixty boarders can be taken at from $8.00 to $12.00. Stabling.

GWYNEDD, PA.

Twenty miles. Fare, 53 cents; Excursion, 75 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1.90; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $8.85; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $23.90; 26-trip Commutation Ticket $6.94. Eighteen trains each way on weekdays. Twelve trains each way on Sundays.

An interesting little village in the midst of a fertile farm country. Its original Welsh founders builded well when they chose it as a site of one of their settlements. Stabling at all the following places:

At the "William Penn," A. G. Yothers, twenty-five persons can be accommodated with board at from $8.00 to $12.00. This house is one mile from the station, but in the village.

Aside from the historic interest which will ever cling to this ancient town, there is much picturesque scenery hereabout, and trolley lines facilitate excursions to many points of interest. It is claimed to be one of the most healthful districts in the country, and its people have always been distinguished for the high moral tone and culture prevailing among them. No better place could be chosen for the summer's sojourn.

The Sun Inn merits the place of honor in the catalogue of Bethlehem's hostelries. It was built by the Moravians, in 1758, and managed by the church until 1840. It has been in continuous use as a place of entertainment for man and beast for over 140 years, and is now under the management of Mr. John Morgan, and he can furnish accommodations for one hundred and fifty guests at $8.00 to $12.60. The Eagle Hotel is conducted by Mrs. M. B. Hoppes. One hundred and fifty persons can find accommodations; terms from $10.00 to $15.00. The Washington House, Geo. J. Occupying a magnificent site upon the west bank of the broad Delaware, and encircled by forest-clad hills and finely cultivated valleys, New Hope possesses most of the essentials of the ideal summer resort. The river affords the best facilities for bathing, sailing, rowing and fishing. The surrounding country is exceedingly picturesque, abounding in delightful rambles, with good roads for driving and cycling. Protected from the afternoon sun by the tall hills, and favored always with refreshing breezes from the river, it is comparatively cool here in the most torrid weather. A bridge connects New Hope with Lambertville, N. J.

The Delaware House, Jacob Munch, Jr., situated on the Delaware River, has just been remodeled and refurnished. Its rooms are large and airy. Thirty guests can be accommodated, and the rates range from $6.00 to $8.00.

L. K. Hall, at Robindale Cottage, one-half mile, and Thomas H. Magill, at his farm, one mile, can each take ten or more boarders at $5.00 to $6.00.

At W. S. Worthington's farm house, a mile from the station, boarders to the number of fifteen will be received at $5.00 from June 1st.

Near Reeder station, which is not quite so far from the city as New Hope, is the farm of Lizzie C. Eastburn, known as "Inghamdale," where thirty boarders can secure accommodations at $5.00 to $8.00. Fine lake and good boating. Specially fine fishing under special permit to guests of this house. Shady lawn and the finest views of York Road above Jenkintown. W. W. Paxson's farm is a mile from New Hope. Mr. Paxson can entertain thirty boarders at $5.00 to $7.00, and will be ready for them May 1st.

Out in Bucks County.

DOYLESTOWN BRANCH.

This branch extends from Lansdale to Doylestown, a distance of ten and a quarter miles. It runs through a charmingly pastoral section of country, and at almost every station there are pleasant hotels and farm houses suitable for the wants of those desiring a quiet resting place for the summer.

CYCLING.—This short line crosses the Bethlehem Pike at Colmar. The Doylestown road leads from Montgomeryville upon the above named Pike through Chalfont and New Britain. Doylestown is upon the best route between Philadelphia and Easton, via Dansborough, where one may choose between the hills and the river road. There is also a direct cycling route from Doylestown to New Hope, Lambertville, N. J. and Hopewell, N. J.

COLMAR, PA.

Twenty-seven miles. Fare, 82 cents (75 cents good only on day of issue); Excursion, $1.00. Package Tickets, 5 for $2.75; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $10.80; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $29.15; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $10.40. Fifteen trains each way on weekdays. Ten trains each way on Sundays.

The country here is of that "rolling character" which is usually a guarantee of the region's healthfulness, while at the same time it gives diversity to the landscape. The air is pure and invigorating, and crystal springs, gushing from an untainted soil, provide that other hygienic essential, good water. An immense stock farm, where there are 250 trotters of the most distinguished pedigree, attracts large numbers of visitors to Colmar.

G. Heller's Farmers' and Drovers' Hotel is a half mile from the station. It accommodates boarders. At W. H. Madgin's Colmar Hotel, near the station, thirty-five persons can be accommodated.

The Eag'e Hotel, George Greatall, at Line Lexington, one mile from Colmar, can take fifty persons. P. O., Line Lexington, Pa.

Ten trains each way on Sundays.

This is a delightful neighborhood, and the numerous pleasant farm houses within convenient distance from the station are well filled every summer with city boarders. Neshaminy Dam, a considerable body of water, near the station, affords fishing and boating. The names that follow are those of persons having houses where from five to ten can find accommodations. The rates are about the same in every case, being $5.00. L. J. Gertenbach, close to station; Paul Van Toor, two squares. Frank Haldeman, one mile, and George Martin, living at a distance of a mile from the station.

Mrs. J. Larzelere, "Brown's Folly," three miles from station, can take fifty. G. F. Shirtt, "Neshaminy Dell Farm," and Chas. Johnson, can each take twenty or more at $5.00. Post-office of all three, Tradesville.

DOYLESTOWN, PA.

Thirty-five miles. Fare, $1.05 (75 cents, good only on day of issue); Excursion, $1.00. Package Tickets, 5 for $3.50; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $13.20; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $35.65; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $14.56. Fifteen trains each way on weekdays. Ten trains each way on Sundays.

Doylestown, the capital of Bucks County, is a typical Pennsylvania country town, with quiet, shaded avenues, handsome residences and agreeable surroundings. It has no factories, and the population is composed largely of professional men, merchants and people who have retired from active participation in business pursuits. Occupying an elevated situation, it is one of the most attractive and healthful towns in Eastern Pennsylvania, and those who have spent a season there always return. The beauty of its environment is attested by the fact that it is a favorite resort of many distinguished landscape artists, who spend the summer months in sketching among the old-fashioned farm houses, quaint villages, and in the picturesque nooks and by-ways. Broad, smooth turnpike roads lead to the Delaware on the east, passing through the charming Cuttalousa Valley to the rock-walled Tohickon, a famous bass stream, on the north; and to the placid Neshaminy to the southward. There is no lack of gayety. Fashionable equipages roll over the highways, and the mellow notes of the coaching horn echo among the hills.

"Oakland," Mrs. H. W. Atkinson, is situated at a distance of five minutes' walk from the station. Its facilities are ample for the accommodation of one hundred and twenty-five guests, and the terms are $7.00 to $14.00.

"Chestnut Grove" is a well-known summer boarding house, situated a half mile from the station. Many Philadelphians make it their summer home. Its capacity is seventy-five guests, and the terms range from $6.00 to $10.00. Jacob J. Haubert is the proprietor.

Philip B. Grove, whose farm, The Maples, is three-fourths of a mile from the station, has accommodations for fifteen at $5.00. Mrs. J. H. Beatty, at her private residence, within five minutes' walk of station, can accommodate eight persons at $5.00 to $7.00.

At Mrs. Cather's Linden Mansion sixty-five persons can find accommodations at $5.00 to $8.00.

Mrs. L. R. Thomas, "Pleasant View Farm," Mrs. Valentine Prock, "Maple Grove Farm" and Mrs. Jos. Rich, "Rich's Retreat" can take ten or more guests at their farms. Rates, $5.00 and upwards.

Edison is a village and post-office about a mile from Doylestown. Here is Sharon Cottage, Elwood Heisler, proprietor, who has room for six boarders at $5.00.

The Picturesque Delaware Valley.

NEW YORK BRANCH.

For diversity and beauty of scenery this region is unsurpassed by any within many miles of Philadelphia. It may be described as a comparatively new country in respect of suburban residential purposes, and the modern and ornate summer homes which dot its verdured hillsides and nestle in its sheltered valleys do not crowd the sweeping landscapes, still fresh in all their primeval loveliness.

The New York branch, beginning at Jenkintown and terminating at Bound Brook, N. J., forms a part of the widely famous "Royal Blue Line" between New York, Philadelphia and Washington, and has the reputation of being one of the most perfect pieces of railway in the world. City stations, Reading Terminal and Third and Berks Streets.

CYCLING.—From any of the stations between Jenkintown and Trenton a variety of charming loop runs may be made, to include Bristol, Holmesburg, Bustleton, the Cheltenham Hills, Whitemarsh Valley, etc. To define the good roads of this region would involve undue space.

BETHAYRES, PA.

Fifteen miles. Fare, 30 cents; Excursion, 43 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1.10; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $7.50; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $21.05; 26-trip Commutation Ticket $4.34. Eleven trains each way on weekdays. Six trains each way on Sundays.

The Spread Eagle Hotel, conducted by Mrs. Frank Yerkes, has accommodations for forty boarders at $6.00 to $8.00. The boarding houses of Miss S. M. Rapp, Mrs. White and Edmund Butterfield can accommodate fifteen or more boarders and will furnish rates upon application. Wm. Martin, Edward Rose and Mrs. Wm. Tomlinson can each take eight or ten guests. Boating and fishing. P. O., Bethayres, Pa. The Lady Washington Hotel, a quarter of a mile from the station, is kept by J. J. Clayton. P. O., Huntingdon Valley, Pa. Board, $6.00 to $8.00, and about twenty persons can be accommodated.

SOMERTON, PA.

Eighteen and a quarter miles. Fare, 41 cents; Excursion, 63 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1 00; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $8.25; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $22.25; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $5 90. Eleven trains each way on weekdays. Six trains each way on Sundays.

This is a snug little village in one of the farthest corners of Philadelphia's corporate limits. The municipal conveniences, police protection, etc., do not detract from its many rural charms. Fine roads for driving. Churches and stores in the village contribute to its attractions, and its train service is all that could be desired.

At the Somerton Hotel, kept by W. H. Hogeland, fifteen boarders will be taken at $6.00. Mr. W. W. Bavington, at Rosemoor Farm, can accommodate twelve boarders at $5.00.

TREVOSE, PA.

Twenty miles. Fare, 47 cents; Excursion, 73 cents. Package Tickets, 5 for $1 55; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $8.70; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $23.50; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $6.76. Eleven trains each way on weekdays. Six trains each way on Sundays.

This is the site of Simpson Grove, where a great Methodist Camp Meeting is held about May 25th to October 1st. Board is obtainable at numerous cottages, and inquiry for accommodations should be made on the grounds. One hundred boarders can be taken at the Simpson Grove House, J. W. Harkins, at $4.00 to $8.00. At Taylor Praul's farm house, a few hundred yards from the station, twenty-five guests can be accommodated, and the terms are $7.00 to $8.00. Harvey Johnson, at The Lead Mine Farm, can accommodate eight at $8.00. The number of trains is increased in summer.

LANGHORNE, PA.

Twenty-four miles. Fare, 70 cents; Excursion, 95 cents. Package Tickets, 10 for $4.28; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $9.00; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $26.70; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $8.67. Fifteen trains each way on weekdays. Nine trains each way on Sundays.

A favorite and beautiful summer resort, where within a few years have sprung up numerous stately villas owned by wealthy and eminent Philadelphians. The surroundings are particularly good, the natural rural beauty of the place being enhanced by handsome architecture and artistically embellished grounds. Uncommonly good roads for driving or cycling to numerous pretty inland villages and points of interest; excellent boating on the Neshaminy; fishing described as "fair to good," the bass and carp furnishing great sport.

Langhorne House, E. K. Hogeland, can receive twenty-five guests at $6.00 and upwards.

At the farm houses of W. H. and E. H. Tomlinson and B. Worthington, a little over a mile away, ten persons can be accommodated at each house at the rate of $6.00 and upwards. Mrs. Edward Neeld, at her private residence, can take ten guests at same rate.

At the pleasant village of Hulmeville, one mile from station, A. Shultz at Shultz Hotel, and J. P. Canby, on his farm, have room for ten each at same rates.

WOODBOURNE, PA.

Twenty-six and a half miles. Fare, 80 cents; Excursion, $1.07. Package Tickets, 10 for $4.82; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $10.80; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $29.15; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $10.06. Nine trains each way on weekdays. Five trains each way on Sundays.

Woodbourne is distinctly rural and has many attractions for those who are in search of rest and strength. Pleasant drives take one through a charming series of views, some of the woodland scenery being remarkably fine.

The pleasant country residence, Hammock Villa, William G. Watson, is three-quarters of a mile from the station. It has wide, shaded lawns, large airy rooms; it is especially adapted to the requirements of families. Mr. Watson will take fifteen boarders at $8.00 to $10.00. P. O., Woodbourne, Pa. Mrs. Sweigard, of the same P. O., will take four boarders on farm at $7.00.

At Glen Lake, beautifully situated, and a lovely place for fishing and boating, the farm house of John Darrah has ample accommodations for twenty summer guests at from $5.00 to $8.00. P. O., Oxford Valley, Pa.

LIZETTE, PA.

Twenty-eight and three-quarters miles. Fare, 80 cents; Excursion, $1.07. Package Tickets, 10 for $4.82; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $11.40; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $30.75; 26-trip Commutation Ticket, $11.27. Nine trains each way on weekdays. Five trains each way on Sundays.

This neighborhood possesses numerous advantages which commend it as a hygienic summer home. It is "real country," with dry, cool atmosphere, pure water from deep-rock springs, and the environing country presents great diversity of scenery.

S. T. Patterson, two squares from station, can accommodate twelve at $4.00 and upwards.

Edgewood, Pa., is three-quarters of a mile from Lizette. Here Frank Cutler and Frank Terry have pleasant farm houses. Eight boarders will be taken at each at same rate.

TRENTON, N. J.

Thirty-six and a half miles. Fare, 80 cents; Excursion (good for six days), $1.25. Package Tickets, 10 for $5.63; 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $12.00; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $34.85; 50-trip Commutation Ticket, $33.80; 100-trip Commutation Ticket (good for three months exclusive of date of issue), $25.80. Twenty three trains each way on weekdays. Fourteen trains each way on Sundays.

Trenton Falls mark the limit of the tidal flow in the Delaware, and here, on the left bank of that noble stream, stands New Jersey's capital city. Its population of 65,000 is justly proud of the town's architectural beauty, fine situation and attractive environment. Its Capitol building parks, drives and river trips draw many admiring visitors. Opposite the Philadelphia & Reading Railway station is a handsome monument, which marks the spot where the British and Hessians surrendered at the close of the Battle of Trenton, December 25th, 1776. The fact that the following are permanent open-the-year-round houses is sufficient guarantee of the quality of entertainment which they furnish.

The Trenton House, P. Katzenbach & Son, accommodates two hundred guests at $10.00. The American House, J. H. Roman, two hundred at $6.50 and upwards. The Hotel Windsor, W. W. Ditts, two hundred, at $12.00. All are within half a dozen blocks of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway station. The United States Hotel, James McCarty, sixty-four at $6.00, is three squares away. The Hotel Barlow, Geo. Barlow, one hundred at $9.00, is ten blocks away, and the State Street House, Mrs. Elizabeth Ale, is only five blocks from the station, and will receive one hundred guests at $9.00.

Foxchase and Thereabouts.

PHILADELPHIA, NEWTOWN AND NEW YORK R. R.

Along the Philadelphia, Newtown and New York Railroad will be found an inviting field for the summer boarder. It extends through a beautiful and fertile farming region to Newtown, in Bucks County, a total distance of twenty-two and three-quarters miles. Trains run to and from both the Reading Terminal and the old Third and Berks Streets Depot.

CYCLING.—This traverses the section familiar to local wheelmen who frequent the Old Second Street or Oxford Pike. Many good roads bisect at the railroad stations for York Pike or Bristol Pike.

In the Pines and by the Sea.

ATLANTIC CITY RAILROAD AND BRANCHES.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company has done much, particularly in the recent past, to enhance its general popularity, but of all its achievements no other has so directly appealed to public sentiment or secured to it so large a measure of popular favor and regard as its establishment of the famous "Philadelphia & Reading Route to the Sea."

It was a revolution in the methods of seashore travel; it was a wonder and a delight to those who had for years accepted the tiresome two-hour trip between the Delaware and the Ocean as an inevitable antecedent to the pleasures of the seaside, and the "flyers—oh, the flyers! when shall their glory fade?" They were the first trains run to a seaside resort that gave the traveler the same degree of comfort and luxury and afforded the same swift transit, as are known on the most complete lines between the larger cities. Sixty minutes from Philadelphia to Atlantic City was the standard finally set by these superb trains, and they continue to be the finest and fleetest seashore trains extant.

The Philadelphia & Reading Route is a very complete railway. Its stone-ballasted roadway is one of the most substantial anywhere to be found, and for solidity, smoothness and freedom from dust, it has few equals, if any. The track is laid with the heaviest steel rails and of standard gauge, and it is double-tracked from the Delaware to the Sea, rendering assurance doubly sure as regards safety—always a paramount consideration in seashore travel—and obviating the delays which are so frequent on single-track lines during the seasons of heavy traffic.

The rolling equipment is ample in extent, elegant in design, and efficient in operation. The massive and powerful locomotives, admittedly the fleetest in the world, are fueled exclusively with clean, hard anthracite coal; and an exceedingly pleasing feature of this route is the entire absence of the dense sulphurous smoke and flying cinders so annoying on some lines of travel. The passenger coaches are so ornately and luxuriously fitted as to be equal in beauty and comfort to the parlor cars in use on many roads. On all express trains there are Pullman Drawing-Room Cars of the latest and most sumptuous style of construction, and on some of the trains Pullman Buffet Parlor Cars are run, enabling passengers to breakfast, lunch or dine en route. It is not a mere summer excursion line, but constructed with the view of meeting the most exacting demands of first-class travel all the year round. Every approved safety appliance is employed to assure absolute immunity from accident, such as the Hall system of block signals and the automatic interlocking switches. The heating and ventilation of the cars receive the most careful attention, and the operating force of the road is composed of well-trained, courteous and efficient men. The stations in Philadelphia and in Atlantic City are conveniently situated and easy of access. The train service is always fully adequate to the exigencies of the changing seasons, and the time-table so adjusted as to meet the convenience of all.

The numerous pretty villages which form an almost continuous line of settlement along this road for a dozen miles out of the city, possess peculiarly strong attractions for those who would become "suburbanites." The country is fertile, healthful and scenically pretty. Living expenses are very moderate, railroad fares low, and there are frequent and promptly-moving trains.

The Philadelphia stations of this line are located at Chestnut Street and South Street wharves. The main depot in Atlantic City is on Atlantic Avenue, extending from Arkansas to Missouri Avenues, and there are also stations on the Baltic Avenue Extension, at the intersection of Kentucky, South Carolina, Virginia, Delaware and Massachusetts Avenues.

GRENLOCH, N. J.

Thirteen miles. Fare, 34 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 53 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $6.25; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $15.00. Seven trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

The surroundings here are of so attractive a character as to merit the attention of seekers for summer homes. Fishermen will find good sport in the streams near by. A popular excursion resort located here imparts variety to the daily life.

The farm house of John D. Nicholson will receive six or more boarders at $4.50. Mrs. Joseph King, whose farm is a half mile from the station, will take eight boarders at $4.50.

STRATFORD, N. J.

Eleven miles. Fare, 28 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 44 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $5.50; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $13.50. Twelve trains each way on weekdays. Four trains each way on Sundays.

This is a comparatively new but growing village, high, dry and healthy, and well supplied with good spring water. Boating, trout and pike fishing on the numerous streams in the vicinity, on Laurel Lake or at Lakeside Park. Good roads delight the wheelmen who come this way.

Old Orchard Inn, located at a distance of three minutes' walk from the station, is a desirable house, having accommodations for fifty guests. Rates, $4.00 to $7.00. The P. O. address is Kirkwood, N. J.

LAUREL SPRINGS, N. J.

Eleven and a half miles. Fare, 29 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 46 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $5.65; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $13.90. Twelve trains each way on weekdays. Four trains each way on Sundays.

The chief feature here is the great crystal spring, said to be the largest in the United States. It is as clear as crystal and as cold as ice, and its value as a therapeutic agent has been testified to by numerous physicians. It offers superior attractions and advantages for a suburban home or summer residence, combining all the pleasures and amusements of a mountain summer resort with the advantage of an all-the-year-round place of residence. There is also a lake, one mile long, which affords excellent boating and fishing.

Lakeview Cottage, Jos. K. McCabe, has accommodations for twenty-four guests at $5.00.

The Laurel Inn, Robt. Fisher, fifty yards from station, can take sixty boarders at $6.00.

Mrs. A. J. Hazzard, "Wahl's Cottage," has room for one or more at $8.00.

Mrs. V. Phillips and Lewis Jarrett can each accommodate several guests at $5.00.

CLEMENTON, N. J.

Thirteen miles. Fare, 32 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 52 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $6.00; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $14.20. Twelve trains each way on weekdays. Four trains each way on Sundays.

The attractions here consist of fine surroundings, good trout and pike fishing, boating, bathing, etc. This is the highest point in South Jersey, the site of the United States Observatory, and the neighborhood is highly salubrious.

Mrs. J. Adams, at "White Cottage," and Mrs. M. Reick, at "Pine View," can each take four boarders at $5.00.

GLASSBORO, N. J.

Thirty-one miles. Fare 47 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 75 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $7.85; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $20.05. Four trains each way on weekdays. Two trains each way on Sundays.

A pleasant town, with fine driving and bicycling roads in all directions. Pitman Grove is two miles distant. Good fishing in the vicinity.

These houses are pleasantly situated, with an abundance of shade and plenty of fruit: Franklin House, W. F. Davis, is two squares from station, and can accommodate thirty guests at $5.00 to $10.00. The Academy Hotel is kept by William Leckfeld, and is one-half block from station; capacity, twenty guests; terms, $5.00 to $8.00. At the private residences of Hiram Sickler, Mrs. J. C. Souders, Mrs. Fred. Smith, Joseph Ellis, Mrs. B. Smith and Mrs. Jacob Lutz, boarders will be received to the number of four or more, the rate being $4.00.

CYCLING.—Upon the through cycling route to Cape May. At Glassboro roads fork for Woodbury or Camden.

RICHWOOD, N. J.

Thirty-four miles. Fare, 58 cents; 10 days' Excursion, 90 cents. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $8.95; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $21.75. Four trains each way on weekdays. Two trains each way on Sundays.

This is a charming little village, situated in the midst of a fine farming region. Peachblow Cottage, a quarter of a mile from station, can accommodate ten boarders at $7.00; address Mrs. Chas. Jenkins, Richwood, N. J. At Evan Hotel, three miles away, there is room for ten boarders; rate, $7.00. P. O. address, J. & J. Gould, Ewans, N. J.

MULLICA HILL, N. J.

Thirty-seven miles. Fare, 70 cents; 10 days' Excursion, $1.00. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $8.95; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $24.15. Four trains each way on weekdays. Two trains each way on Sundays.

Occupying an elevated site, this town enjoys pure invigorating air, and commands some really beautiful views. Fine roads for cycling and driving. Good fishing. The Eagle Hotel, three hundred yards from station, is kept by P. Waldman, and accommodates twenty boarders at $4.00. Isaac Ballenger, Thos. Bienning and Mrs. Anna Gaunt, living near the station, can each accommodate five or more boarders at $4.00. John P. Reece, at his farm house, can take twenty, at the rate of $3.50.

CYCLING.—This quaint village is midway between Woodbury and Woodstown upon an excellent road which leads on to Salem, with connecting runs to Pennsville (upon the Delaware), or via Bridgeton and Millville to Cape May.

HAMMONTON, N. J.

Twenty-eight miles. Fare, 71 cents; 10 days' Excursion, $1.14. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $10.00; 180-trip Quarterly Ticket, $18.00. Five trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

Who has not heard of Hammonton's fruits, berries and poultry? In addition to these, there are pure air and water, general healthfulness and numerous amusements. The Columbia Hotel, 100 yards from the station, is conducted by N. F. Bowker. Fifty persons can be accommodated at $7.00. The Hammonton Hotel is one square from the station, and Mrs. K. Aitken is proprietor. She can take care of thirty people at $7.00. At the Hotel Royal, E. L. Crowley, there is room for seventy-five guests at $10.00.

CYCLING.—From this place a highway extends eastward via New Gretna to Tickerton-Asbury Park and Long Branch; with short intervals of bad roads it is a direct and interesting route. At Elwood, a few miles further on, a short side road gives good riding to May's Landing.

EGG HARBOR, N. J.

Thirty-nine miles. Fare, 99 cents; 10 days' Excursion, $1.45. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $13.65; Four trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

Famous for its hospitality, its healthfulness, its vines and its wines, there are few more agreeable places than old Egg Harbor City. It is between the pine woods on one side and the salt on the other, a combination of influences which result in a remarkably salubrious climate. Yachting, rowing and fishing are the predominant fads. Below will be found a list of the principal hotel, proprietors, and number of guests accommodated.

CYCLING.—Many of the streets of this thrifty place tempt the passing cyclist, and good side paths are usually available away from the main highways.

Name of Hotel and Cottage.	Name of Proprietor.	Location.	No. Persons Accom.	Price per Week.
American House . . .	Wm. Zimer	Egg Harbor	20	$7.00

PLEASANTVILLE, N. J.

Fifty-one and a half miles. Fare, $1.25; 15 days' Excursion, $1.75. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $16.35. Five trains each way on weekdays. Three trains each way on Sundays.

Situated on high ground, within sight of the ocean, this town is separated from Atlantic City by a stretch of salt meadows five miles in width. Many persons find it more beneficial to tarry here than to make their homes in close proximity to the sea. As there is water in every direction, sailing and fishing are prominent features.

Mrs. E. A. Scull's cottage, one square from the station, has accommodation for sixty guests at $5.00. Mrs. C. Senseman, "Sunnyside," has room for thirty at $4.50.

CYCLING.—The old shore road, northward through Absecon and southward to Somers' Point, is a fine run. It is a part of the great coastwise cycling route from Sandy Hook to Cape May. By crossing to Beesley's Point the wheelman may spin south a mile or so, and find a road to Ocean City, connecting with the ferry to Longport, thus making a varied round trip.

BRIGANTINE BEACH, N. J.

Fifty-eight miles. Fare, $1.25; 15 days' Excursion, $1.75. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $17.00; 20-trip Family Ticket, good one year from date, $17.50; 150-trip Ticket, 6 months, good only for six successive calendar months including month in which issued, $50.00; 150-trip annual, good for twelve successive calendar months including month in which issued, $60.00.

All of the above tickets are good only for the person named thereon, except the 20-trip Family Ticket, which is good for any member of the family or servant therein. Tickets can be purchased at 13th and Chestnut Streets, 834 Chestnut Street, 1005 Chestnut Street, 3062 Market Street, foot of Chestnut Street and foot of South Street.

Winter schedule, two trains, weekdays, to and from Philadelphia. Summer schedule will comprise a larger number of trains.

This charming seaside resort is the adjoining beach to Atlantic City. An electric railroad runs the entire length of the beach, connecting every portion of the island with the railroad to Philadelphia, and also by means of a steel ferry boat to and from Atlantic City, making half-hourly trips during the summer months. For those who prefer to avoid the crowd and bustle of Atlantic City this is a most agreeable place of summer residence, having all the natural attractions of the larger place. Those who are fond of shooting and fishing will find this altogether the best place for those sports on the ocean coast.

The Holland House, equipped with electric lights, artesian water, etc., E. Mehl, proprietor, can accommodate nearly one hundred guests at rates varying from $15.00 to $35.00.

Brigantine House, the old-time hostelry kept by A. B. Smith, has a capacity of one hundred guests, and the prices range from $10.00 to $12.00 according to room. Open all the year. The equally well known and favorite Holdzkom House, A. E. Wells, can accommodate one hundred at $8.00 to $12.00.

Mrs. A. Cordery will take eight boarders at $5.00 to $6.00; S. Holdzkom eight and J. Baymore six guests at $6.00 to $7.00.

A number of fine cottages, fully furnished, at $150.00 to $250.00 the season can be rented from The Brigantine Co.

Atlantic City, N. J.

Fifty-six and a half miles. Fare, $1.25; 15 days' Excursion, $1.75. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $17.90; 20-trip Family Ticket, good one year from date, $17.50; 150-trip, 6 months, good only for six successive calendar months, including month in which issued, $50.00; 150-trip annual, good for twelve successive calendar months, including month in which issued, $60.00.

All of the above tickets are good only for the person named thereon, except the 20-trip Family Ticket, which is good for any member of the family or servant therein. Tickets can be purchased at 13th and Chestnut Streets, 834 Chestnut Street, 1005 Chestnut Street, 3902 Market Street, foot of Chestnut Street, and foot of South Street.

In winter, six trains each way on weekdays. Four trains each way on Sundays. In summer, fifteen or more trains each way on weekdays. Ten or more trains each way on Sundays.

Atlantic City, once a local resort for Philadelphians, has become the national metropolis of sea-shore life.

A brief run of an hour in luxurious cars and over a perfect road-bed ends at this bright and populous resort.

Arriving and leaving trains of the Philadelphia & Reading Route (Atlantic City Railroad) have stations (in addition to the principal station on Atlantic Ave.) at Kentucky, South Carolina, Virginia, Delaware and Massachusetts Avenues. This is a great convenience, as it places visitors within easy walking distance of all the principal hotels as well as the cottages and the beach.

Atlantic City enjoys a continuous season throughout the year; its southern exposure and warm sands giving it marked advantages in winter. The spring tide of travel occurs during Lent. The vast throngs of visitors in the summer time attest not only the popularity of Atlantic City, but its marvelous capacity to entertain. The splendid Boardwalk, the several piers, the Inlet and its fleet of sail and steam craft, the electric cars, affording fine short excursions, the fishing, both in the bays and open sea, the glitter of evening life, bathing in the surf, all offer constant inducement to action.

Two recent institutions are the Country Club, with its fine golf course upon the mainland and the annual Horse Show.

The Philadelphia & Reading route to the sea begins at the ferry stations, foot of Chestnut Street and of South Street, Philadelphia. The road is stone ballasted and double tracked throughout. The fastest trains in the world run regularly upon this level reach of track. The Hall system of automatic block signals is in operation ensuring safety. Anthracite coal does not make smoke, soot or cinders.

CYCLING.—Unnumbered miles of level, hard streets and boulevards make it veritably a wheelman's paradise, while the beach at low tide is equally attractive.

Along the Lower Coast.

CAPE MAY DIVISION.

The Cape May Division extends from Winslow Junction, where it connects with the main line of the Atlantic City Railroad to Cape May, with a branch to Sea Isle City, and another branch to Ocean City, which brings that growing resort twelve miles nearer to Philadelphia than heretofore.

In construction, equipment and general features the new line has been made to conform to the high standards established by the "Philadelphia & Reading Route." The road is very substantially built, ensuring its ability to handle the largest conceivable volume of travel without danger of delay or accident. The track is of heavy steel, and is ballasted with broken stone and slag, precluding the familiar annoyance of dust. The motive power is supplied by smokeless locomotives of the well-known Reading type, noted for their great power and speed. An ample outfit of passenger coaches of novel and beautiful design, with Pullman parlor cars for those of more luxurious tastes, complete the provision for the safe, swift and comfortable transportation of passengers. A full service of express trains will be operated throughout the season.

CAPE MAY COURT HOUSE.

Sixty-eight miles. Fare, $1.68; 10 days' Excursion, $2.00. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $19.55.

The county seat of Cape May County, long noted for its good gunning and fishing, as evidenced by the numerous club houses in its immediate vicinity, the three largest—the Royer, Keystone and Kensington—being within a short walk of the station. It is located on the Great Sounds, affording the finest inside fishing on the Jersey coast.

COOLIDGE PARK, MAY
Reached by Philadelphia & Reading Fast Trains

The Hotel Bellevue, Alex. R. Springer, proprietor, will take forty boarders, $5.00 to $9.00.

CAPE MAY, N. J.

Seventy-nine and a half miles. Fare, $1.75. 15 days' excursion, $2.00. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $25.00; 20-trip Family Ticket, $20.00; 150-trip Ticket, 6 months, $50.00; 150-trip Annual Ticket, $60.00. Conditions and limits of these tickets are similar to those of Atlantic City tickets of the same class.

Cape May is one of the oldest and most popular watering places along the Jersey coast, and is the summer headquarters of the most aristocratic and wealthy residents of the Middle and Southern States.

Its hotels and boarding cottages are ample in number and well equipped to accommodate all visitors, and the beach is perfectly safe and affords the finest bathing of any place along the shore.

A Country Club with excellent golf links has been opened in a delightful location, adding very greatly to the other attractions of Cape May. The train service by the Philadelphia & Reading Route has been very greatly improved, and the passenger department take pleasure in assuring its patrons of still further progress in this direction.

Regarded from a hygienic and sanitary standpoint, Cape May has no superior. Its climatic advantages are universally conceded, the superior qualities of its pure water drawn from artesian wells, and the celebrated "Cold Springs" is well known, and its sewerage system regarded as a model.

SEA ISLE CITY, N. J.

Sixty-five miles. Fare, $1.55; 15 days' Excursion, $2.00. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $25.00; 20-trip Family Ticket, $20.00; 150-trip Ticket, 6 months, $50.00; 150-trip Annual Ticket, $60.00. Conditions and limits same as those of Atlantic City tickets of the same class.

Situated on an island seven miles long and about one and a half miles in width, nearly equidistant between Atlantic City and Cape May, it fronts upon the broad expanse of the open ocean, with a firm and gently sloping beach, that furnishes the safest and most delightful surf bathing that could be desired. A large bay and a labyrinth of water-ways, teeming with fish, crabs and oysters, afford unexcelled facilities for marine adventure and sport. Here are the famous Corson's Inlet sheephead grounds, known to every piscatorial enthusiast in the country, for the sheephead is the gamest of the finny tribe. Excellent yachting there is, of course, both on the open sea and in the still waters of the tributaries.

The climate is most delightful, and the stringent measures enforced to protect the soil from contamination, together with the city's unexcelled water supply, render it notably healthful. A sixteen-foot wide board-walk, extending for more than two miles along the ocean front, and a drive seven miles in length on the hard level beach, at the very edge of the surf, make promenading and driving pleasant features of the daily life. Churches, schools, stores, and all the requisites of comfortable living abound. In addition to the larger houses mentioned below, which are all on or near the ocean front, there are numerous private cottages, where board may be had at prices ranging from $6.00 per week upwards.

OCEAN CITY, N. J.

Sixty-five miles. Fare, $1.55; 15 days' Excursion, $2.00. 60-trip Monthly Ticket, $25.00; 20-Family Ticket, $20.00; 150-trip Ticket, 6 months, $50.00; 150-trip Annual Ticket, $60.00. Conditions and limits the same as those of Atlantic City tickets of same class.

Ocean City contains upwards of 2,000 attractive, and, in many instances, costly cottages. In addition to the hotels there are a number of comfortable cottages from 9 to 15 rooms, at which board may be had at reasonable rates; numerous stores of all kinds, a fine bank, extensive electric lighting plant, pure artesian water and perfect sewerage are among the advantages of this progressive resort. The streets are beautifully paved, and a good street car service is maintained. The cars now run to Fifty-ninth Street. A fine 25-foot board-walk has just been completed. At this point one of the best beaches on the coast exists. Egg Harbor Bay, near by, is the fishing ground for Ocean City.

The Camp Meeting session lasts ten days in each season, and the Auditorium and Temple are in frequent use throughout the summer, many notable educators and divines appearing here every year. The Philadelphia & Reading Route to Ocean City brings this place a dozen miles nearer Philadelphia than before.
